

ROBERT MORCOS, CEO

Robert Morcos is the Founder & CEO of Social Mobile®, a mobility solutions integrator specializing in designing customizable GMS Android-powered smart solutions for enterprise. The global company has presence and/or operations in the US, Europe, and Asia. Since founding the company in 2011, Social Mobile® has successfully deployed over 15 million smart devices globally across the healthcare, retail, hospitality, education, and defense sectors.

Robert has been active in the technology industry since he was fifteen years old. He built Social Mobile with no external capital investment, and to this day it remains a family-owned business. He has been involved in every aspect of the business, including manufacturing, design, development, retail, distribution, and consulting. Through his many industry publications and strategic partnerships with some of the largest tech companies in the world, Robert is consistently recognized as an expert in his field. Currently, he is focused on reshoring technology design and manufacturing to help decrease domestic reliance on an often-turbulent global supply chain.

Robert grew up in Miami and attended Florida State University on an academic scholarship. Robert is active on several Boards of Directors, is a member of the Young Presidents Organization (YPO) Miami Chapter, and in 2020 was named as one of South Florida Business Journal's 40 under 40. As part of his overall passion for reducing the digital divide, he is always looking for opportunities to provide digital access to disadvantaged communities.

ED SHULMAN, President

Ed Shulman is the President of Social Mobile. In his role, Ed will be responsible for facilitating operations and focusing the efforts of an exceptionally talented and highly diverse team across three continents to provide Social Mobile clients with an unmatched portfolio of private-label solutions and services.

Ed served over 20 years in the United States Air Force where he ascended through the enlisted ranks to become a senior non-commission officer before receiving his commission from the Academy of Military Science. During that time, Ed served in operational and leadership positions as a Joint Terminal Attack Controller and Air Liaison Officer focused on multi-domain integration of joint forces into dynamic and high-risk scenarios. Ed completed his service as the Assistant Director of a Commanders Inspection Program under the Office of the Inspector General. In that role, he was responsible for developing a culture of regulatory compliance, critical self-assessment, and continuous process improvement for an organization with 11 unique mission areas, across three geographically separate locations, and over 1700 military and civilian employees.
